ALLIED FORCES HOLDING AGAINST GERMANS SURGING ALONG FRONTIER

After Twelve Hours of Silence, Paris
War Office Says Battle Progresses Favorably.

CITY TRANSFORMED AT ONCE

Report Says the Germans Have Also Met With Reverses in a Battle in Lorraine.

NEW DEFENSE PRESENTED

With Reinforcements in Battle Line
Today Allies Army Stands
Ground Against Invaders.

(By United Press.)
Paris, August 26.—“The big battle is progressing favorably.”

When the war office issued this statement today after a silence of twelve hours Paris was transformed from a city of gloom to one of hope.
It meant that the allied forces were holding against the Germans who have surged against the French frontier for thirty-six hours.

A battle in Lorraine is also reported as going against the Germans.

Meanwhile the war office declares
the success of the Russians along the eastern Prussian and Austrian frontiers is unbelievable.

With the fate of the nation admittedly hanging on the result, the allied lines along the northern and eastern frontiers were being hard pressed today by the entire German active army. All night, fresh troops were being brought up by the enemy, while General Joffre devoted the time to strengthening the weaker points in his defense columns.

When the great battle was resumed
at daybreak today, the German assault was met with a determined defense and the war office chieftains profess confidence that the line as now established, will hold. The fighting front covers the boundaries of the departments of the Nord, Ar-denne, Montmedy and the Meuse.
Around the Maubeuge, in the North, Givet in the Ardennes Montmedy in the Meuse and west of Lunville the heaviest fighting is believed to be taking place.

South of Lunville, along the Lorraine border, another great battle is in progress, and it to reinforce this line admittedly pressed to the limit,
that General Joffre withdrew his entire Alsacian army, abandoning Mulhausen, Altkirch, and the other points taken at so heavy a cost in a series of desperate bayonet charges,
and sent it, with its veteran commander, General Paul Pau to fill up the gaps in the line and prevent a break through the French lines north and south of Epinal.

In the north, the German armies
are being driven hard against the entrenched position near Givet, where the British expeditionary troops are massed.

Several attempts to carry the entrenchments there by storm have been made and the heaviest fighting of the war is reported by the war office chieftains, to continue in this neighborhood. The German army in action here is reported to be commanded by the crown prince in person.

The slaughter at the front is described by the general staff as enormous. The Germans constantly charge the allied lines in the face of a terrific shell fire from the artillery mounted behind the trenches and a

WAR SITUATION BRIGHTER TODAY

From British Standpoint, it is Better
Because of Report of Steady
Russian Advance.

AND ALLIES HOLDING FAST

Constant Fighting is Sapping German
Strength—Berlin Reported Fearing
Russian Invasion.

(By United Press.)
London, August 26.—With the allied forces in France and Belgium holding fast against the German avalanche and with the Russian advance pushing rapidly into eastern Prussia and Austria the general war situation was much improved from the British standpoint today.

The war office frankly admits that the great battle for the possession of the French frontier is not over.

Berlin is on the verge of panic and wealthy citizens are fleeing into Sandanavia, states a dispatch from there, via Copenhagen. They fear the Russian invasion may end at Berlin.

The entire German army is in the field. Orders have been issued calling boys between the ages of 16 and 20
to the colors. Men up to 45 years have already been called. This means every German male capable of bearing arms is to be used.

Constant fighting is sapping the German strength and the element of time favors the allies. With Russia advancing and the allies holding, England was cheered.

The premier stated today that 600,000 men are needed.

He announced the Germans in African Togoland had offered to surrender under condition but the offer was rejected. Only unconditional surrender will be accepted.

The Russian war minister is quoted as saying Russia will have “upwards of 3,000,000 men in Germany
within a fortnight and half that number in Austria. “The kaiser is known to fear this invasion. It will call many troops away from the French frontier.

Ten British sailors were killed by shells from the forts of Kiao Chau.
They were aiding Japanese battleships that are carrying on a long-distance bombardment.

The English troops are holding the German lines between Givet and Din-nant. They have been subjected to enormous pressure from the Germans, who are continually charging
the lines in an effort to break them, but the war office insists that not only are the lines holding, but that the British have been able to push them forward at several points.

It is certain, however, that the British and their French allies will be pressed to the utmost if the German attack at this point is to be held. The Germans apparently have singled out the English to bear the brunt of the fighting and are sending against them, massed bodies of infantry,
while shelling the English position
with guns hastily mounted in the hills and concealed behind very heavy timber.

Meanwhile, the work of hastening reinforcements to the continent is in progress. Additional troops are reported to have landed in France yes-

AUSTRIAN LOSS 60,000

Servian Legation Tells of Enemy's Misfortunes in Battle.

(By United Press.)
London, August 26.—The total losses of the Austrians in the battle of the Drina are placed at 60,000 out of a total of 300,000 Austrians engaged, according to a statement issued by the Servian legation. Of these 16,000 were killed, 30,000
wounded and 15,000 taken prisoner.

JAPS LAND ON CHINESE SOIL

Covered Withering Fire of British Cruisers, Soldiers Begin Investment of Kiao Chau.

BLOCKADERS IN DANGER

Harbor is Reported to be Mined and Germans Move Their Guns to Thwart Plans.

(By United Press.)
Pekin, Aug. 26.—The Japanese forces have landed on Shan Tung peninsula to begin their investment of the forts of Kiao Chau and the German concession, according to information reaching the Chinese foreign offices. The Japanese landed under a covering fire from the light-draught British cruisers which were able to get a closer position than the heavier draught battleships and battle cruisers blockading the ports. The forts are reported to have had the range of the British and to have killed ten men and slightly damaged the British war craft.

It is reported here that not only have the Germans completely mined their harbor but they have strewn a line of mines outside, which endanger the blockading fleet. In addition, the Germans have removed some of their guns in the coast forts to new positions, thus making valueless the maps of the defenses captured by the Japanese.

Explaining that Japan desired to prevent as much as possible, a needless loss of life, the Japanese minister requested the Chinese foreign minister to remove the limitations on the German concession already agreed upon to prevent the extension of hostilities to any wider area. The Chinese government refused.

That the German garrison at Kiao Chau can hold out for not less than three months, is the general opinion here. The forts have been materially strengthened and to take them by storm would be a Herculean task.
Their reduction by shell fire from the ships will be distinctly dangerous as the fort batteries have equal range
with the big guns of the Japanese squadron.

The Chinese officials have again
been assured that under no circumstances does Japan consider holding the German concession when captured.

The Japanese officials here declare that the only object in taking it, is to “remove the German menace to the trade of the Orient, and it is to be turned back to its lawful owner,
China, as soon as possible.”

Mrs. Emma Purt, 73 years old, was seriously injured in a fall down stairs Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Norrin, near Falmouth. Mrs. Purt sustained a broken hip bone and because of her advanced age her recovery is very doubtful.

SAY IT SETTLES LOCAL QUESTION

Attorneys Believe Ruling in Greencastle Water Rate Cases Stops Gas Controversy.

COMMISSION HAS THE POWER

Decided it Could Raise Rates Where Franchise Was Issued Before
Commission Was Created.

According to Rushville attorneys,
the granting of the plea of the Central Fuel and Peoples Natural Gas companies to increase their rates is in prospect, since the question involved was ruled on favorably by the state public service commission in the Greencastle water rates case.

An officer of the Central Fuel company was in Indianapolis yesterday and was told that in all probability the two Rushville cases would be taken up soon. Before the hearing is held, the commission will send an engineer here to assess the valuation of the two plants.

The two gas companies are now receiving fifteen cents a thousand cubic feet. They asked the commission to allow an increase to forty cents a thousand and have complied with the public service commission law by surrendering their franchise granted by the city of Rushville and are operating under special franchise provided for in the law to be used during the interval between the surrender and the time when the commission rules on the case.

The question involved was whether the commission could raise the rates of a public utility operating under a franchise granted before the commission was created. The commission, in its ruling in the Greencastle water rates case, decided that it had the power and did allow an increase in rates. The case is analogous with the case of the Rushville gas companies. It is highly probable, however, that there will be litigation questioning whether the public service commission law vests this power in the commission.

Officials of the local gas companies hold that the ruling settles the question as concerns the situation here and that it is only a question of time until an increase is granted.

NO DECISION IN WHALEN CASE

Mayor Bebout Following Trial of Alleged “Bootlegger” Takes Evidence Under Advisement.

EDELMAN DIDN'T GET CHANCE

Prosecuting Witness Testifies That he Gave Dollar For One
One Drink of Whiskey.

Mayor Bebout took the case of “bootlegging” against Robert Whalen under advisement and will make his finding in a few days. Whalen has been released on $150 bond. Mayor Bebout first announced that he would make his finding this morning, but now that Whalen has secured bond, will take his time to the case.

At the trial last night William Edelman, the prosecuting witness testified that Sunday afternoon while on the fair grounds he went to the stable near the race track seeking a drink.
He met Whalen and asked for a cold bottle. According to Edelman, Whalen stated that he did not have anything but whiskey and that it was fifteen cents a drink.

A quart bottle was handed Edelman, according to his testimony, by a colored man, whose name he did not know and that Whalen handed him a glass but it was not needed as he had already taken the drink out of the bottle. Edelman stated that he gave Whalen one dollar and asked for his change. According to Edelman he demanded his change several times but Whalen told him he didn't have any coming.

Edelman then came to this city and filed the affidavit against Whalen. On cross examination he told John Joyce, attorney for Whalen that he was prompted to file the charge because Whalen had tried to beat him.
Edelman could not say positively as to whom the whiskey belonged but did know that he had paid Whalen
the dollar, received one drink of whiskey and received no change. “I know,” said Edelman, “that I did not get a dollars worth in that one drink,
even if I did drink out of the bottle.”

Thomas Horr was the only other witness for the state but he did not know anything connected with the alleged transaction. He said he saw Edelman in the stable but did not see any money change hands.

The defense contended that the sale was not made and that the whiskey did not belong to Whalen. The only witness placed on the stand by the defense was Chief Rosencrance, who arrested Whalen Sunday after Edelman had preferred the charge.
He was asked if he found whiskey
on Whalen when searched at the jail and replied that he did not. Whalen did not take the stand.

FAIR OFF TODAY IN FLYING START

With Weather Ideal, Crowd Begins
Coming About Noon and Large Attendance Was in Prospect

ENTRIES LISTS ARE FILLING

Attractions Tonight Expected to Bring Out Large Crowd—Many
Will Stay on the Grounds

With the weather ideal, the Rush county fair got an auspicious start today. Up to noon the crowd on the fair grounds was not large, but it was stated that it was normal.
However, this afternoon people began to go to the fair grounds both on the traction line and in vehicles in large numbers.

A prominent Rush county farmer said this morning that it was his belief that Rush county farmers, in these days of automobiles and night fairs, would change their methods of attending the fair, to a large extent.
It was his opinion that most farmers now, instead of coming early in the morning and staying all day, will wait until noon and then remain for the night fair.

There isn't any doubt but that a large crowd will be attracted to the grounds tonight because of the merit of the attraction. The fire works display has been widely advertised as exceptionally good. Tomorrow night,
too, should bring out a good crowd,
with a pony show, a band concert
and another free attraction to entertain the people.

The wiring for lighting the grounds was completed today so that those who attend tonight will be certain to find well lighted grounds. Last night the lights were rather dim. It was found that the wiring was not carrying the electricity on to the grounds in large enough quantities to supply all of the lights. Additional wires were added today as feeders so that there will be plenty of light for tonight.

The decorations in the floral hall
were about completed at noon today.
The entry list in this department is large. Mrs. R. H. Strong of Indianapolis, representing the woman's work
department of the Panama-Pacific exposition to be held in San Francisco, arrived this morning and met women who were interested in her work at one o'clock on the grounds this afternoon. She explained the rules and regulations surrounded the woman's department at the world exposition. It is her desire to have every county in Indiana represented in the display. She came this morning and went almost immediately to the fair grounds. She returned to Indianapolis at three o'clock this afternoon.

FEW FOLKS HAVE
GRAY HAIR NOW

Well-known local druggist says everybody is using old-time recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

While details are withheld, it is stated that at points where the French have followed up the repulses of the Germans by a forward movement, they have found their way blocked by heaps of bodies piled breast high.

The valor of the Germans is admitted everywhere. They have charge the entrenched positions of the allies time and time again, in close formation. As fast as a gap was torn in the ranks, the survivors have closed it up and pressed on toward the goal. The percentage of German officers is stated to continue large, as they lead their men in the assaults.

OSTEND MAY HAVE TO SURRENDER

Scout Report Heavy German Reinforcements Coming up and an Attack is Imminent.

BRITISH WARSHIPS NEAR

London is Fearful of Raid by Zeppelins After Example at Antwerp Yesterday.

(By United Press.)

London, Aug. 26.—Reports from Ostend today say that the German attack on the city has been renewed. Scouts report heavy bodies of German reinforcements coming up and it is believed the city will be forced to surrender.

Steamers arriving at Folkstone, report the presence of English warships near the Ostend harbor.

The London newspaper say the capture of Ostend by the Germans will be a direct menace to England, inasmuch as it is only 66 miles off the British coast. They profess to believe it is the intention of the German general staff to take the city and then to mount heavy guns to protect it from raids by sea. The danger of Zeppelin raids is also discussed at length. There is no disguising the fear England has toward these "vultures of the air," as they are described in today's reports from Vienna. The narrow escape of the royal palace at Antwerp in yesterday's raid, shows that the Zeppeline, operated by an expert—and Count Zeppelin, despite his great age, has volunteered to operate one in person—can become a real menace. The distance across the channel from Ostend would be easily negotiated.

The bitterness of the feeling against England, and the fact that up to the present the British fleet is intact, may lead the Germans to undertake an aerial raid which might have serious results. In addition, the Daily Mail, in discussing the almost capture of Ostend today, says:

"From a naval standpoint, Ostend is well equipped to serve as a refuge and harbor. If it were strongly held by land, several German warships might attempt to dash there from Wilhelmshaven or Heligoland. Once under the protection of the land guns, they would have a base for raids against channel shipping."

Other experts take a contrary view, however. They say the British fleet could bottle up Ostend as effectively as they have already bottled up the great German ports and they insist the only advantage Germany will get from holding Ostend will be a base for an aerial raid.

terday and to have been rushed to the front on trains that had been held in waiting.

Because of the exigencies of the situation, the Canadian contingent numbering 20,000 men, will sail for the continent tomorrow. Orders have been given for them to go direct to a continental point the identity of which is not revealed. The Canadian transport will be conveyed the entire distance by a strong fleet of warship, which have been sent across to meet them.

It is certain the Canadians will be in action within a fortnight. Just how many troops make up the reinforcing contingent of the British army is naturally withheld, but it is certain that the entire active army will be in service almost immediately. The French attacking tactics have proven a failure and they are now on the defensive. While there is no disposition to criticize unduly, the British army experts declared the Germans gained a big advantage through the haste with which the French poured into Alsace-Lorraine. They weakened their lines to the north, it is stated, and instead of rushing every available man into Belgium to reinforce the Belgians, when the latter had the Germans in difficulties, attention was devoted to Alsace-Lorraine, and now the French have lost both there and in Belgium.

OSBORN LOOKS TO BE THE VICTOR

According to Returns, Former Governor of Michigan is Leading in Race For Nomination.

PRIMARIES HELD YESTERDAY

Five Would be Republican Candidate For Governor—Vote Throughout State Below Normal.

(By United Press.)

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 26.—Very incomplete returns today from yesterday's state primaries, gave indication of success for Former Governor Chas. S. Osborn, of Sault Ste. Marie, in the five-cornered scrap for the Republican nomination for governor.

Although pressed at some points by Secretary of State Frederick Martindale, Osborn's lead continued to grow as the returns poured in.

Although the early figures showed that Al. Crosbeck, chairman of the state central committee, would carry Detroit and Wayne county, by a good plurality and would run strong in the copper country, the indications were that he would be a poor third to Osborn and Martindale. Ellis and Linton, the remaining candidates, developed no strength.

Complete figures from 447 precincts early today showed the following vote: Osborn, 11,889; Martindale, 9,410; Crosbeck, 6,033.

The result of the contest for lieutenant governor between Dickinson of Charlotte, Hines of Flint and Curtis of Detroit, was very uncertain today, the Charlotte man having a slight lead in the early returns and Curtis and Hines running neck and neck not far behind.

The available figures showed: Dickinson, 6,304; Curtis, 5,872, and Hines, 5,877.

Few returns were available on the congressional contest. The late closing of the polls, the abolition of the two o'clock count and the use of the new form of ballot, which was more or less confusing to the officials, serving to make the counting extremely slow.

In the first congressional district, Congressman Doremus has apparently been re-nominated on the Democratic ticket, with the Republican contest still in doubt. In the second district, "Jim" Helm, state dairy and food commissioner, is running neck and neck with Representative Samuel Beakes for the Democratic nomination. On the Republican ticket, Larwill and Bacon are fighting for the nomination, the early returns indicating that Reece is out of the running.

In the fourth district, Congressman Hamilton has apparently distanced Judge Thompson in the race for the Republican nomination.

The fight for Republican honors in the tenth district developed into an interesting contest between Currie and Clerum, neither having any decided advantage on the face of the early figures.

Throughout the state the vote was far below normal.

To Get Cook Off Ticket.

It is said that some powerful influences in the Crawford Fairbanks-Tom Taggart organization are demanding that Cook get off the ticket and that he get off without any unnecessary delay. They are of the opinion that in view of the unprecedented activity of Republicans all over the state, Cook will be more of a handicap than they can carry to victory. They realize how vulnerable is Mr. Cook, whose nomination was forced by the Fairbanks-Taggart machine, and they are beginning to realize something of how extensive is the unpopularity of the last Democratic legislature over which Cook presided.

"Cook has got to make a satisfactory explanation, and it is hard to see how he can explain his record to the satisfaction of the taxpayers of the state, or he has got to get off the ticket," said a friend of one of the other candidates today. "The Republicans would give us the fight of our lives even if Cook was not on the ticket but it will now be political suicide for us to permit him to remain at the head of our ticket."

Cook's friends come back with the statement that he will not get off the ticket and that if the Republicans elect their state ticket Cook will go down with the other Democratic candidates. Cook did not issue a public statement today regarding the recent revelations of the 1913 legislative scandals.

It was reported that an organized movement is developing among friends of the other candidates on the Democratic state ticket to force Homer L. Cook, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, to withdraw from the ticket. Cook was the speaker of the last Democratic House of the Indiana legislature and as such was supposed to have close knowledge as to the workings of that body. Recently it has been discovered that laws found their way into the statute books of the state without having been passed by the legislature and that there are serious mistakes in the printed journal of the proceedings of the House which were compiled under Cook's supervision. To date Cook has made no public statement regarding this which is considered the greatest disgrace in the state's history. The storm of protest that is going up from every section of the state against Cook and a realization of the fact that the Republican organization, in its conduct of the state campaign, intends to center its attack on the last Indiana legislature, which among other things that did not set well with the taxpayers of the state raised the state tax levy, has fairly chilled with fear the other Democratic state candidates and their close personal friends.

What Our Neighbors
Are Talking About
+++++
One Moment Please.

(Joliet News.)

Of course, we expected it. So did everybody else familiar with the situation. And all got ready for a good laugh. But the exhibition didn't amount to much. It was quite ordinary. Old stuff, mostly. There was about the usual display of silly conceit, cuttle fish bluster and extravagant pipe dreams, and it was easy to see that something had gotten under the hide, but all in all, the audience yawned about as much as it laughed.

The truth in this halo bunk has been pulled so often old timers have grown weary and charge it up to the colicky condition of the weather and the remedies for the same. But for our part, we always did like a circus. The antics of the clown are so funny.

Now, what are the facts? A great man is dead. We all admit that. But who are these wise guys "officially" fixing the hour of his death and shoving it several hours ahead of the time announced exclusively by the United Press? Why, they are the fellows who fell down on the story, and found, when too late, the censorship had bottled them up. Naturally, they got together, and agreed on a "death hour" that might save their luckless skins.

And who are these fellows who are squealing to beat the band? Who are the ones who tore their hair Wednesday afternoon, and worked the wires and frantically but unavailingly demanded some authoritative news from Rome? Who are the one who have been throwing a frothy fit ever since the United Press put over another of its famous "news beats"? Why, they are the editors who are served by the press association that get left. Can you blame them for feeling peeved? Nix. We don't. Go to it! Get it all out of the system. It will be a relief all around.

And in the meantime, as the funny pictures say: The Joliet News stands by the United Press and the superiority of its service. With the news in this stand are such papers as the Chicago Post, the Peoria Star, the Indianapolis News, the Lake County Times, the Davenport Times and something over six hundred American afternoon papers—more than are served by any other association. Mighty good company, we think. And until the official returns are in, the figures in hand will stand.

ternoon.

The cattle, hog, sheep and horse departments seemed very well filled this morning. Wright and Thornsbury of Greensburg have a magnificent display of big type Poland China hogs on the ground. John Boyd's herd of registered jerseys are on the grounds as is A. E. Harlan's herd of registered short horns from Alexandria, Ind. Frank Hilsford also has a herd of cattle in the stables.

The skies cleared during the night and this morning, when the sun arose unobstructed by clouds, prospects for the fair were never brighter because the rains of the early part of the week will be of wonderful benefit to the crowds at the fair. All that is necessary for any further rains to hold off until Saturday.

The first night of the fair was not a very great success, largely due to the weather. The fair ground was cold and damp, and the sky cloudy, hardly the kind of weather to attract a crowd to the grounds. Because there were only a few people on the grounds, the band concert scheduled for last night was called off.

The regular night program will be carried out tonight, however. The most pretentious offering of the week is that for night, when the fireworks display will be given. The exhibit will last for an hour and a quarter and contains many celebrated set pieces. A man has been sent here from Pittsburg to see that the display is presented properly and to prevent accidents.

Prizes were awarded yesterday in the classes for farm products, fruits and vegetables. This morning the judging began in earnest in the small show ring. Premiums were awarded in the classes for farm teams, draft horses, jacks and mules, beef breeds of cattle, poultry farm implements and vehicles, table luxuries ladies fancy and handiwork and fine arts.

Tomorrow morning the judging will be in the classes for milk breeds of cattle, general purpose farm teams, general purpose horses, sheep and hogs.

Tomorrow morning at ten o'clock, also, will take place the final in the better babies contest. A medal will be awarded to the best girl baby, and the best boy baby. There will be short talks in connection with the contest. The babies were scored last Wednesday at the Graham school building. There were entered then thirty-nine babies, thirty-three boys and six girls.

There are more shows and concessions on the ground this year than three ever have been. This is thought to be due to the night fair. Not

ENGLISH CAVALRYMAN SORRY HE EVER DONNED A MONOCLE

Rather Than be Disgraced, He Threw
Single Pane of Glass to Floor
When Reprimanded

WHAT LORD KITCHENER SAID

(By United Press.)

London, Aug. 12.—(By mail to New York.)—An aristocrat captain of one of England's crack cavalry regiments is bitterly repenting ever having donned a monocle.

Despite the chaff of his brother officers, the officer never appeared without his single pane of glass. It was currently reported that he wore it in bed and when he took a bath.

many of the shows last night were ready to do business. Practically all of the stands were up and ready for today's crowd.

The rain kept many people away the first day of the fair. It was expected new attendance records for Tuesday would be set, with Governor Ralston here to speak and other things that were planned in his honor. It would have been impossible, however, to have a fox chase, as the fox which the fair secretary had arranged to use escaped.

TELL THRILLING STORIES OF SEIGE

Wounded Who Were in Battle at Liege Recite Tales of Daring of
the German Spies

ONE SLEPT IN A HAY LOFT

Maastricht, Holland, Aug. 26.—Thrilling incidents of the fighting about Liege, told here by wounded men who were in the garrison of the besieged city. One said that a half dozen Belgian carabineers came upon seventy Germans who were escaping through a tunnel. As they emerged, the Belgians shot them down, one by one. When four had been killed the remaining Germans surrendered, believing they faced a large force.

Many stories are told of the daring of German spies. One spy, in the uniform of a Belgian soldier, slept in a hay-loft by the side of two Belgian policemen without having his identity discovered.

MERCHANTS WILL GIVE PRIZES TOO

Offer Valuable Premiums to Baby Boy and Girl Scoring Second Highest in Contest

FREE FOR MOTHERS THURSDAY

Additional prizes in the better babies contest at the fair tomorrow will be given by the merchants of the city. The medals will be given to the highest boy and girl and then the prizes offered by the merchants will go to the next highest. There is but one condition to the offer of the merchants and that is the baby must be present at the time.

The Maunzy Company offers an embroidered dress; Poe and Son, a sterling silver spoon; The 99 Cent store a sulkey and Wallace and Myers local photographers, a half-dozen pictures each. The fair association announces that the mothers of the babies in the contest will be admitted free to both the grounds and the grand stand. It was previously announced that they would be admitted only to the grand stand free but this was changed to include the grounds.

A couple of days after Lord Kitchener took over the war office, the monocled captain, feeling certain his family influence would secure him a staff job, presented himself and asked for an appointment.

"K. of K." glared at the window-pane and said:

"Is it absolutely necessary for you to wear that glass in your right eye?"

"Yass, certainly, my lord. I weally couldn't see without it."

"Ah, I am sorry to hear that" was the famous field marshal's grim reply. "You had better report yourself for depot duty. I can only have men with me who can see well."

As the discomfited officer descended the stairs, a crash of glass was heard.

NO VIOLATION OF NEUTRALITY

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 26.—Foreign governments thus far have offered no objection to America's plan for a government-owned shipline. Although newspaper accounts of the private objection in France have come to the attention of the white house, it was officially learned that no protest has been lodged here.

President Wilson takes the position that the United States can purchase vessels from Germany or elsewhere, without violating neutrality or transgressing any international precedent.

TWO GAMES BOOKED WITH NEWCASTLE

Arcadians Will Play Hoosiers There September 6 and 7—Out to Clean up.

BIG DOINGS FOR LABOR DAY

Arrangements were completed today whereby the Arcadians will play two games with the Hoosiers in Newcastle, Sunday and Monday, September 6 and 7. A special train will be run to Newcastle for the Sunday game and a large crowd from here will likely remain over for Labor Day contest. The Arcadians have one victory over the Hoosiers and Manager Davidson is anxious to make a clean sweep of the series.

In connection with the Labor Day game a boxing contest will be held at the Newcastle ball park and the management there is planning on a big time. The Arcadians had little difficulty with Newcastle in the first game and fans here believe the team can again turn the trick. So far no game has been booked for next Sunday and it is quite likely that the team will lay off one Sunday.

St. Peter's Cathedral, Rome, and Some of The Cardinals Mentioned For New Pope.

Photos by American Press Association.

According to custom, the cardinals of the Roman Catholic church meet in sacred conclave at the Vatican ten days after the death of a pope to elect his successor. They attend mass at St. Peter's, where the late Pope Pius is buried, and then organize the conclave. Each cardinal is given certain quarters. Many ballots may be taken, extending over several days, or the new pope may be chosen forthwith. Here is shown St. Peter's, Rome, and some of the cardinals whose names have been mentioned as possible choice. They are (1) Cardinal Gotti, (2) Cardinal S. Vannutelli, (3) Cardinal Lorenzelli, (4) Cardinal Prisco, (5) Cardinal Martinelli, (6) Cardinal Rinaldini and (7) Cardinal Cavallari.

LETTER TELLS OF A SKIRMISH

Young French Cavalrymen in Letter Describes Short Fight Where all Germans But One are Killed

OFFICER FINALLY SPARED

Demounted Detachment of Germans Hid Behind Cows to Protect Themselves from Bullets

(By United Press.)

Paris, Aug. 26.—The story of a skirmish between French and German cavalrymen is told today in a letter received from a young officer at the front.

"Leaving our station to patrol some woods in front of our line," the officer wrote, "we saw in a clearing, a dismounted section of German cavalry at the gateway of a large farm. The lieutenant in charge of our party ordered half of the troop to make a detour and approach the farm from the opposite side while the rest of us attacked from the front.

"The Germans hearing the noise of horses hoofs, ran out of the farm and tried to remount, but we were on them too quickly. My lieutenant fell with a bullet in his hip, but shouted, 'Never mind me, into the farm quick and cut them up.'

"We rushed in. The Germans took refuge in byres and hiding behind the cattle, fired revolvers at us. We soon finished them off. A German sergeant, who had shot our lieutenant, remained. He was hiding behind a cow. I fired two shots and the animal fell dead. When I was about to shoot the sergeant, the lieutenant, who had been carried in, shouted that I should spare him, and he was made a prisoner. Within five minutes another German patrol, attracted by the firing, galloped up. We received them with a hot fire and the assault lasted twenty minutes. I killed four men. Reinforcements relieved us shortly and we trotted back to camp. I took the German sergeant's revolver as a prize."

DIVINE SARAH COMMENTS ON WAR

Says Soldiers are Fighting for all Humanity to Bring End Once for all to Conflict

REGRETS SHE'S NOT A MAN

(By United Press.)

Paris, Aug. 12.—(Mail to New York)—"This is a holy war, the holiest of all wars that have ever afflicted humanity," writes Sarah Bernhardt in a letter to the Petite Patrienne.

"It is not for the sake of the flag but for all humanity that the soldiers are fighting and falling. It is to secure the end once for all of all wars; it is for the sake of universal peace.

"Ah! how I regret that I am not a man, that I might devote myself to the great task of fighting the barbarians who for too long have been the scourge of the whole world."

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. So far it has been impossible to determine from where the cable was sent as the name is not familiar to people here or else was confused in transmitting. The cable had the name of the place as Cabopolis apor, Sangugliemo. The last letter received from Miss Amos was from Egypt and they intended to visit in Italy before returning home.

BELGIAN SCULPTOR TELLS HOW HE ESCAPED DEATH AT LIEGE

Trapped in a Barn Where They Sought Refuge, Germans Force Way Through and Set Fire to it

FINALLY MAKE THEIR ESCAPE

(By United Press.)

Brussels, Aug. 12.—(By mail to New York)—A Belgian sculptor, who answered the call to the colors today, told here how he and several companions narrowly escaped death in a barn during recent fighting about Liege. He said the Belgian troops in the trenches were in the best of spirits throughout the fighting and picked out their enemies as the Germans approached and divided them amongst themselves.

"The tall Goliath is mine," one man would cry out. "I'll take the sausage to his right," another would reply, and they seldom missed.

The sculptor said that after hours of fighting, one of his companions, an artist, was wounded in the shoulder.

"I helped him to a barn nearby," the sculptor continued. "Some tired soldiers and a farmer were there and my companion was resting on the straw, when the Germans forced their way to the barn. Bullets whizzed about and the barn was set on fire by the enemy. We knew that to leave the barn meant death in a hail of lead, and to remain meant being burned alive. One of the men shouted that we should surrender. Another said he would blow his brains out rather than become a prisoner. The farmer was the only one who kept a cool head. He saw a narrow chink in the wall and began widening it. We helped him and all managed to squeeze through. The Germans were not on this side of the barn and we crept toward a wood nearby, where we were safe."

Consumers Are Indifferent About Cleanliness of Milk

There has been in the past much indifference on the part of consumers with respect to the cleanliness of milk; too many of them desire to buy milk at a low price and do not give any consideration to quality. Dirty milk may prove expensive as a gift, while clean milk may be economical even at a high price; the cheapest article is often the most expensive. A higher price for clean milk may be cheap insurance against some form of sickness.

In a recent Farmer Bulletin (No. 602) the U. S. Department of Agriculture has outlined the main factors that should go to favor the production of clean, safe milk. These include clean, healthy cows kept in light, well-ventilated stables that may be easily cleaned; a well-drained barnyard; thoroughly sterilized utensils, and healthy milkers that milk with dry hands; a small-top milking pail; a separate house for handling the milk; an abundant supply of pure water. The temperature at which the milk is kept is also an important feature, as bacteria multiply very rapidly when the temperature is above 50° F. The milk should be cooled immediately after making, to 50° F. or lower, and stored, until delivered, at a low temperature.

An increasing demand for good, clean milk among consumers is a gratifying indication that there is a more general realization of the importance of this item. This demand has resulted in more stringent regulations concerning the sanitary conditions associated with the milk supply. Compliance with these sanitary rules requires additional care, attention, and extra expense on the part of the producer of the milk, and while this expense may not be large, it is only fair that the consumer should pay his share of the cost of improving the quality of the milk. The consumer can not expect to purchase a clean, safe milk at the same price as a dirty milk which endangers the health of his family.

A more serious consideration is the marked increase in the cost of production which has resulted in recent years from feed and labor problems. This increase is in keeping with the increase in the cost of almost every commodity, and the consumer must expect to pay his portion of any legitimate increase in the cost of production occasioned by these conditions.

On the other hand there is need of more attention to better management on the average farm devoted to the production of milk. The amount of milk produced per cow is frequently so low as to reflect seriously upon the business ability of the owner. A producer who makes no systematic effort to lower the cost of production by increasing the average production of milk per cow is entitled to little sympathy if he finds the business unprofitable. The profits yielded by a good cow often go to offset losses caused by poor cows in the same stable. The keeping of records of production of each individual in the herd, the elimination of unprofitable cows, the improvement of the herd through selection of the best producers and breeding them to a bull of dairy merit, and the selection of the best heifers from such breeding are necessary to put milk production on a sound basis. Unless the producer does these things he disregards the fundamental principles of business economy, and it is unreasonable for such a man to expect the consumer to pay him a profit on business practices which represent such economic waste. There is no good excuse for slack business methods on the dairy farm. Directions for keeping records of milk yields and cost of production are furnished by every State agricultural college and by the United States Department of Agriculture.

SEEKS FREEDOM ON HER OWN SOIL

France is Compelled to Defend Her Own Country, Which is Revealed by Official Reports.

GERMANY COMES BACK GOOD

Early Collapse of Kaiser's Military Methods Predicted After Failure to Take Liege.

(By United Press.)

New York, Aug. 26.—France must fight for her freedom on French soil. This is the primary meaning of the operations described in official reports. The exuberant feeling during the first fortnight of hostilities, that Belgium and Germany alone would supply the great battlefields of the campaign, has been shattered by the failure of the allies plan to take the offensive.

After the German repulse at Liege, the collapse of the German military methods was predicted; now that the allies have been taught the difficulties of offensive operations against the Kaiser's war machine, suggestions that the French defense has gone to pieces are on everybody's lips. Both judgments are on a par.

The first phase of the campaign, which centered about the able handling of the Liege forts, went against Germany; the second phase, whereby allies hoped to engage in offensive strategy has resulted in German's favor. This is all the legitimate meaning that can be extracted from the details that have passed the censor.

The retirement of the allies to their "covering positions," probably is a graceful French way of admitting Germany now is master of all Belgium and the Anglo-French way of admitting Germany now is master of all Belgium and the Anglo-French forces are recovering their breath protected by the permanent frontier defenses.

There is no indication in official or unofficial reports that the Germans were able to follow up the collapse of the French offensive.

While the allies have been compelled to retreat, a fact almost as important seems to be that the Germans have been so seriously handled as to make an immediate continuation of their strategy impossible.

There are two primary reasons why the offensive movement of the allies in southern Belgium failed: The nature of the ground and the fall of Namur. The allies used three armies for their operations. Two advanced on the Ardennes, one from the northwest and the other from the south, while the third army moved in the Angle of the Meuse and Sambre Rivers, extending southwest from Namur.

The Ardennes is a thickly wooded and hilly district, crossed by many streams. The advantage to the defenders is enormous and this fact is sufficient in itself to account for the German success against the two French armies.

The fall of Namur undoubtedly drove the third allied force out of the Meuse-Sambre angle, thus completing the German victory. The mystery of Namur's fall is removed if the Germans used against it a mass assault on a scale magnified above the frontal attacks at Liege. Namur's defenses are much more compact than are Liege's and lend themselves better to assault by mass formation.

The triple failure in Belgium, Lorraine and Alsace, of the French offensive, does not speak highly for the strategy involved in Paris. It would seem that sentimental, rather than military reasons, have governed these initial plans. German military ability is entitled to more respect than its first exhibition at Liege seems to have produced in the French capital.

SOCIAL SERVICE IS CHIEF TOPIC

Program For Annual Meeting of State Teachers Association is Made Public Today.

WILL BE OCTOBER 29, 30, 31

Change in Time From Holidays Made to Suit Demand of Majority of the Teachers.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 26.—The program for the State Teacher's Association annual meeting, just completed, shows that "Social Service" is to be the general topic for this year's convention October 29, 30 and 31.

The gathering of educators will be in Indianapolis as usual with headquarters at the Severin Hotel. The change from the holidays was made to meet the demands of a majority of teachers. A bulletin recently issued by Ernest P. Wiles, chairman of the executive committee, announces that "the fight is on for the largest enrollment, the largest number of teachers in actual attendance and the best program in the history of the association."

The program will be ready for distribution by September 15. Under the general topic of "Social Service" such speakers as Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, of New York; State Supt., J. Y. Joyner, of North Carolina; Dr. W. C. Bagley, of the University of Illinois; W. D. Lewis, of the Wm. Penn. High School, Philadelphia; Dean Russell, of Teachers College, and others have been chosen to discuss this vital topic.

To accommodate the increased number of teachers expected to attend on Friday, October 30, the "big day," the general association will be divided into three groups. One group in Tomlinson Hall will be made up of rural teachers; a second group in Caleb Mills Hall, of teachers in graded schools; a third group in Roberts Park Church, of teachers from high schools and colleges. The speakers will go from one group to another so that practically all of the teachers may hear these addresses.

COME BACK AFTER A HARD DEFEAT

Allies Still Hold Altkirch and Mulhausen, According to Message Given Out at Washington

REASON WHY ALLIES LOST

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 26.—The French army still holds Altkirch and Mulhausen; the allies following a defeat by the Germans, have firmly established themselves at a point west of the place where the great battle was fought, and France and England are got in the least disheartened by the reverses, it was officially stated at the French embassy. Official despatches from Paris to the embassy brought this information.

The defeat of the allies was due to the superior number of the enemy, the despatches stated. The position the allies now occupy is declared impregnable. The second division of the French army suffered rather severely, the dispatch states. But the bulk of the division is reported in good condition and spirits. German losses were reported very high. One reason given why the allies lost is that they had not thought Germany would disregard Belgium's neutrality and had not prepared for that event.

LABOR PROBLEMS ARE DISCUSSED

Many Notables in Public Life Contribute Messages to Labor in Current Number of Organ

FEDERATIONISTS ARTICLES

Wilson, Taft, Roosevelt and United States Officials Write in Labor Day Number

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 26.—Labor problems are discussed by distinguished Americans in the Labor Day issue of The Federationist, official organ of the A. F. of L. in an issue published today. President Wilson, former Presidents Roosevelt and Taft, Secretary of Labor Wilson, Chairman Walsh, of the Industrial commission and others contributed "messages" to Labor.

"No one can look about with frank eyes, without feeling that there is a steady movement both of purpose and action towards justice and a fuller comprehension and realization of the essential rights and liberties of men," said President Wilson. "The movement may be slow, at times seems distressingly and discouragingly slow, but it is unmistakable; and all we have to do to set it forward with ever increasing momentum is to think justly, purpose the things that are right, and be afraid of nothing except to be unfair and selfish and hasty, when interests as great as the country itself are involved."

Colonel Roosevelt's statement declared in favor of unionism, employees compensation, the eight hour and the minimum wage legislation. He scored violence in labor disputes, particularly in the Colorado coal strike.

"Every man who condones, glosses over or apologizes for such acts," said Roosevelt, "is a public enemy. The managers and larger stockholders of that corporation (the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co.) had not a proper sense of their real obligations to their real obligations to their employees, and the community."

Roosevelt denounced the mine owners as "greedy, short sighted, and callous to public needs."

Former President Taft declared himself in favor of labor organizations, but against the "closed shop" as a curtailment of personal liberty. He said he favored workman's compensation laws, but was against exempting labor and farmers organizations from the anti-trust law. He congratulated President Sompers on the latter's "hard and successful fight against spread of socialism among wage earners."

"The only test of socialism fully endorse, its opposition to war," said Taft.

NEW BUREAU HAS BEEN BIG HELP

State Department Has Done Everything to Help Locate Americans Stranded in Europe.

MANY HAVE BEEN LOCATED

Uncle Sam is Standing For Peace at Home and Seems to be Only Nation Keeping Ahead.

BY BURTON K. STANDISH (Written for United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 26.—In these uncertain days Uncle Sam is about the only great world figure who is keeping his head. Uncle Sam today is standing not only for peace at home but he is doing everything he can to keep the 100,000 Americans scattered throughout the European war zone content and safe.

As soon as he saw the first war cloud coming across Europe he established in the State Department a bureau of information and immediately notified his 235 diplomatic and consular representatives in the warring countries to "look out for Americans."

In Washington the headquarters were established. A large room on the first floor of the Department used by the Consul Bureau was designated the Information Office. A half dozen officials of the consular service were designated to act as clerks and the latch string was hung out, the country was notified and since then the bureau has been "swamped."

First it undertook to inform relatives or friends in the United States of the whereabouts and condition of their relatives traveling in Europe. If a business man in Springfield had relatives in Germany he asked the state department to cable the American consul at the station nearest the last stopping place of the tourist. This the State Department did and when the reply came the business man was notified immediately.

Few hours passed, however, until the bureau discovered it would have to come to the financial relief of Americans. Telegrams poured into this country that traveler's checks of the tourists and their letters of credit would not be cashed. It became necessary for friends and relatives in this country to come to their assistance and semi-official banking business was started.

The first day $25,000 was received and forwarded to European points. The second day checks ranging from $100 to $5,000 and $10,000 were deposited to be forwarded abroad.

In this way the information bureau not only looked after the inquiries from persons here in the United States but it sought to put ready money in the hands of stranded tourists.

To illustrate just how this is done let me cite an instance of a New Yorker who came to Washington to find out about a daughter "somewhere in France." He gave her itinerary and stated just where she had expected to be on that day. The clerk took her name and address and the information her father gave. He explained to the father that the State Department has no funds to pay for telegrams and that it would cost him nineteen and twenty-five cents a word to send the cable.

The father said he would pay any bills and deposited $3,000 with the clerk with the understanding that all except the State Department expenses should be forwarded to his daughter. By midnight of that day a message was en route to the consul near where the girl was expected to be. The consul was notified to pay to the girl the money.

This incident is duplicated in scores of ways every day. Men and women in near by cities are coming to the bureau while those in other parts of the country are wiring their Congressmen to inquire for them. On the day the bureau opened more than fifty congressmen inquired in behalf of the constituents. Practically the whole Minnesota delegation in Congress called first.

A large number of Norwegians were somewhere in northern Germany en route to a convention in Norway. Friends and relatives in the Northwest were concerned about their safety and the State Department started an investigation. As this is written it has not been concluded.

According to the State Department Register the number of consular officials in the countries in the war territory are as follows:

Germany 69, France 61, Austria-Hungary 17, Russia 20, Italy 28, and Servia 3.

In the same countries the United States has twenty-nine officers in the various diplomatic stations.

PROTESTS TO THE NEUTRAL POWERS

Servia Complains of Alleged Atrocities Austrians Committed in Certain Regions

FOUR REGIMENTS CRUSHED

(By United Press.)

Nish, Aug. 26.—The government has filed a formal protest with the neutral powers, charging that the Austrians, who have been defeated in the various positions along the Drina committed various atrocities upon the inhabitants of the region through which they fled. The war office announces that the Servian troops have now assumed the aggressive and are driving the Austrians before them in a semi-rout.

According to the information made public, the Austrian 28th, 21st, 11th, and 102nd regiments were practically annihilated and all of the officers either killed or captured.

STILL WATCHFUL WAITING

Wilson Resolves Not to Recognize Carranza Government Yet

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 26.—"Watchful waiting" remains the administration's slogan in Mexico. It was authoritatively announced today that official recognition of the Carranza government is not in immediate prospect. The constitutional regime, however, will be accorded recognition as soon as international reforms are instituted and a constitutional election is held.

New Styles for Fall in Wooltex Suits

We take pleasure in announcing THE ADVANCE FALL SHOWING OF WOOLTEX COATS, SUITS AND SKIRTS. The first collection of the handsome new garments for the Fall, 1914, has arrived. It is a very choice and attractive assemblage of Wooltex garments, such as will be wanted immediately by women who enjoy being the first to wear the new fashions.

The models shown are in the most charming effects that the season has produced. Styles as expressed in Wooltex apparel are authoritative. The garments are designed and tailored with exceptional artistic skill, bringing out the completest beauty of the season's styles in the most original fabrics.

The straight line effect is a dominating feature, but it is made very graceful and charming by the influence of the ripples which are produced in the coats, suits and skirts.

There are too many splendid features to tell about here. We invite you to come and view the exhibition and see the garments themselves—what new beauties the fall fashions have presented.

PRICE OF FLOUR IS RAISED AGAIN

Increased Two Dollars on Thousand Pounds Today by Local Manufacturers—Same as First

RETAILS AT 5 CENTS MORE

Decrease of Fourth of Cent a Pound in Wholesale Price of Sugar, But no Prospect of More

With sugar reduced twenty-five cents on the hundred pounds wholesale this week, there is little prospect of further reduction. Local grocers who have talked to traveling salesmen from jobbing houses say that if the war were stopped at once it would take at least three years for the sugar market to reach normal again. With the war in prospect for some time, there is no means of telling just when the market will be right again.

There has been much talk of beet sugar, Rushville grocers point out, but it is next to impossible to sell beet sugar in Rushville, especially in the summer time. There is a big quantity of this sugar, but there is no sale for it here now.

Rushville flour manufacturers today raised the wholesale price of flour two dollars on the thousand pounds. This is the second raise in the price of flour since the war began. The first was also two dollars on the thousand pounds. The increase today will cause an increase of five cents a sack in the retail price. The first increase in the wholesale price caused a similar increase so that flour is only ten cents a sack more than it was when the war opened.

Even though beet sugar were saleable in the summer time, it is doubtful whether the supply would hold out because Germany, France and Russia produce about sixty-five per cent of the beet sugar. It is not at all likely that a normal crop of beets will be raised because of the war.

Beans is about the only other commodity that is still showing the effects of the war. Before the European conflict they were wholesaling at $2.35 a bushel, but now they are $3.75.

A traveling salesman here today told a Rushville grocer that the can manufacturers had withdrawn prices on tin cans. This, combined with other things, is what is causing the cost of living to reach such alarming stages. The salesman said there was not enough tin in the United States to last a month with the consumption normal. Wales is the biggest producer of tin.

Notification has even been received of an increase in the price of wrapping paper. A substance known as sulphite is used in making the paper and that comes from a foreign country. The supply is diminishing and there is not much prospect of obtaining more of it.

ENGLISH HUSSARS SURPRISED IN RIVER

Many Are Slaughtered by German Cavalrymen Before they Could Get Out of Water.

THE BRITISH LOSS IS HEAVY

(By United Press.)
Paris, Aug. 26.—A strong German column of cavalry today attacked the eighteenth Hussars of the English army, while the latter were bathing in a river, the location of which is not revealed by the war office.

It is admitted that the English regiment, taken by surprise lost very heavily. Many of the men were slaughtered before they could get out of the water. The Hussars not bathing, rallied and stood off the charges until reinforcements reached the scene.

FILES PROTEST AT WASHINGTON

Belgium Alleges Bombardment of Antwerp With Airships Violates Act of Hague.

NO STEPS TAKEN BY BRYAN

Protest Alleges Harmless Civilians Were Killed, Among Them Four Women.

(By United Press.)
Washington, Aug. 26.—Minister Havenith, of Belgium, on behalf of the Belgian foreign minister, filed a protest with Secretary of State Bryan today, against the depredations of the German dirigible Zeppelins over Antwerp, causing the death of many non-combatants.

Secretary Bryan acknowledged the receipt of the protest, but declined to take any further steps at this time.

The protest of the Belgian foreign office, filed by Minister Havenith, was as follows:

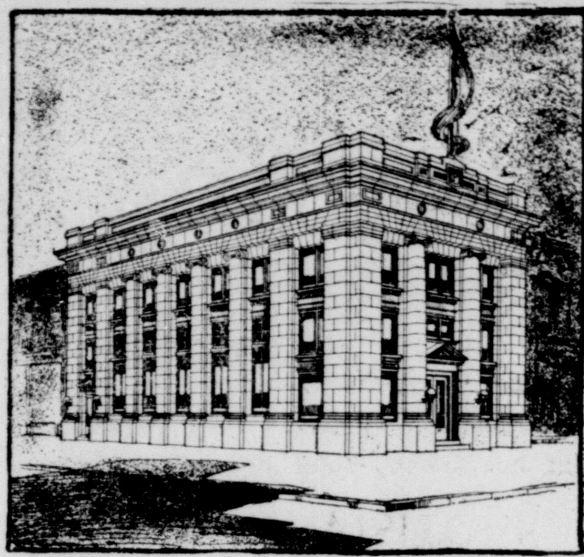

"During the night of the 24th to 25th, a dirigible balloon, a Zeppelin, flew over the city of Antwerp at a steeple height and threw successfully eight bombs, of great exploding strength. According to our investigation, conducted by the judicial court, there have been killed, all harmless civilians, among them being four women; eight have been injured, several mortally, one bomb has been exploded above the papal palace where the queen and royal children were living. The material damages are considerable.

"The bombardment constitutes a violation of Act 26 of the first convention of The Hague."
